♦ The Aggies are slated to return eight starters on offense and seven on defense from the 2011 team, which finished 4-7. The Aggies played Montana State, and Sacramento State of the Big Sky last season. UC Davis lost at Montana State 48-14, but beat the Hornets in the Causeway Classic 23-19.

♦ The Aggies will play their first Big Sky Conference game on Sept. 22 on the road against Cal Poly. UC Davis' first home conference game is Sept. 29 against Weber State.

♦ UC Davis coach Bob Biggs is entering his 20th season at the helm, and his 35th year on the staff of his alma mater. Biggs, who has compiled a 140-78-1 record, has announced this will be his final season.

♦ From 1973-2006, UC Davis competed as a Division II program, before moving to the FCS in 2007. UC Davis has captured 30 conference championships in its football history, including 27 outright or shared Northern California Athletic Conference Championships from 1929-1992.

CAL POLY TEAM NOTES

♦ Cal Poly officially joined the Big Sky Conference on July 1 as an affiliate member in football. The Mustangs will continue to compete in the Big West in most of its sports.

♦ The Mustangs are no stranger to playing Big Sky Conference teams. In the last 10 seasons, Cal Poly played eight of the nine Big Sky squads (2011 membership). Cal Poly compiled a 17-16 record during that span against Sky squads, including a 1-1 record in the playoffs.

♦ Cal Poly has enjoyed eight winnings seasons in the last nine campaigns. Cal Poly advanced to the 2005 Division I quarterfinals, and in 2008 lost to Weber State of the Big Sky in the first round of the playoffs.

♦ Cal Poly head coach Tim Walsh guided Portland State from 1993-2006, 11 of those seasons the Vikings were in the Big Sky. He led the Vikings to their only Division I Playoff appearance in 2000. Walsh has won 65 games coaching in the Big Sky.

♦ The Mustangs have an overall record of 470-372-20 in 93 seasons of football. Since becoming a four-year institution in 1941, the Mustangs have compiled a 381-290-9 record. Cal Poly moved to the Division I FCS level in 1994, and since then have gone 109-91.

♦ Cal Poly will play its first conference game at home on Sept. 22 against UC Davis. The Mustangs will play Eastern Washington in a non-conference game on Nov. 3 in Cheney.

♦ Montana State has improved its record each of the past four seasons, the first time for that occurrence in school history.

♦ The Bobcats rushed for 212.2 yards per game last season, the highest total in a season since MSU was in the middle of its five-year option offense experiment (1988), and the second-highest since the glory days of the late '70s

♦ In the last 10 seasons, Montana State has opened a season with a returning starter at quarterback eight times, and has won at least a share of the Big Sky title in five of those eight campaigns.

♦ The three primary running backs (Cody Kirk, Tray Robinson, Orenzo Davis) on MSU's preseason depth chart have accounted for 3,260 career rushing yards.

♦ Montana State has shared the Big Sky Conference Championship each of the past two seasons. The Bobcats have qualified for the playoffs each of the past two campaigns, winning a second-round game over New Hampshire in 2011.

♦ The Lumberjacks will play their second full season in the $26 million newly renovated Walkup Skydome, including new press box, suites, chair back seating and locker rooms.

♦ Head Coach Jerome Souers ranks fifth on the Big Sky's all-time victories list with 76 wins. Only former coaches Chris Ault (Nevada), Don Reed (Montana), Bobby Hauck (Montana) and current ISU coach, Mike Kramer have won more games in conference history.

♦ Five of the seven losses in 2011 were by eight points or less and by a combined 20 points including four games by four points or less. The only double digit losses were at FBS and Pac 12 member Arizona and FCS playoff participant and former No. 1 team in the country, Montana State.

♦ The offense ranked 14th in the Football Championship Subdivision in 2011 in total offense, producing the Big Sky's top rusher and pass efficiency leader. Sophomore running back Zach Bauman ranked fourth in the country in rushing with over 1,400 yards with seven games over 100 yards on the season. The Lumberjacks posted the top passing efficiency mark in the Big Sky and ranked sixth in the nation in 2011 behind the play of Cary Grossart.

PSU TEAM NOTES

♦ Portland State improved by five wins from 2010 to 2011 (2-9 to 7-4), making it one of the most improved teams in the country. PSU also appeared in the national rankings for the first time since early in the 2007 season, earning a number 25 rank on Nov. 14.

♦ The Vikings have led the Big Sky Conference in rushing each of the last two seasons. In 2011, the Vikings averaged a school record 247.8 yards rushing per game to lead the Big Sky and rank eighth in the nation. This, despite losing the nation's leading rusher (Cory McCaffrey) and scorer after week six. SR QB Connor Kavanaugh finished third in the league in rushing (1,060 yards). McCaffrey would have finished fourth (731) despite playing just five games. PSU also set a school record for rushing in a single game (436 vs. Idaho State, Oct. 1).

♦ Portland State's 2012 signing class was perhaps the most locally-based since Portland State joined the Big Sky Conference in 1996, and likely since Mouse Davis trod the sidelines for the Vikings in the late 1970s. Of the 24 signees in 2012, 16 are high schoolers from the Pacific Northwest, 13 are from Oregon, 10 from the metro area. Portland State got lots of help in the offensive and defensive backfield as well as on both lines, and Burton feels they came up with remarkable young talent at the linebacker position. Better yet, from The Sports Network's columnist Craig Haley: "With their high number of two- and three-star commits, it can be argued that James Madison and Portland State are putting together the best recruiting classes in the FCS."

SAC TEAM NOTES

♦ The 2012 Hornet schedule features games at New Mexico State and Colorado to start the year. This season will mark the first time that Sacramento State has played a pair of Football Bowl Subdivision teams in the same year since playing at Fresno State and New Mexico in 2007.

♦ For the first time since taking over the Hornets in 2007, head coach Marshall Sperbeck will not serve as the team's offensive coordinator. Paul Peterson, who most recently was the quarterbacks coach at Southern Utah, took over as the offensive coordinator during the spring.

♦ Sophomore Garrett Safron is the only returning quarterback and will battle with transfer Mason Magleby for the starting job. Safron played in five games as a redshirt freshman, throwing three touchdowns and rushing for three more. Magleby played his first two collegiate seasons at Nevada.

♦ Sacramento State closes the 2012 regular season on the road at UC Davis in the annual Causeway Classic. For the first time since 1993 when both teams played in the America West, this will be a conference game as UC Davis has joined the Big Sky as an affiliate football member.

SUU TEAM NOTES

♦ Southern Utah has won three straight games against BSC opponents, as it swept its three contests last year with a home win over Sacramento State, and road triumphs over Weber State and Northern Arizona. The win over Sac State snapped an 11-game skid against BSC opponents, a streak dating back to the 2005 season.

♦ Although it is new to the conference, the Thunderbirds are no strangers to BSC competition as they have played an average of three games per season against Big Sky opponents since moving to the NCAA Division I level in 1993. SUU has played at least two BSC games every season except two since 1993; the only exceptions were in 2006, when the T-Birds' only Big Sky opponent was Weber State, and 1995 when they faced Idaho State. In 1994 and again in 1998 the 'Birds squared off against four BSC teams.

♦ Six Thunderbirds who earned Coaches all-Great West Conference honors last season return for the 2012 season, including offensive player of the year Brad Sorensen, who is a two-time first-team all-GWC pick. OG Zach Brackus was also a first-team selection by the coaches, while defensive tackle Cody Larsen, linebacker Chad Hansen, center Gavin Farr and wide receiver Fatu Moala were second-team picks. In the media voting, Farr, Larsen and Hansen joined Sorensen and Brackus on the first-team.
